After they had sounded the port, and were assured that they should not be cut off in their retreat, these two vessels rowed into the harbour, and notwithstanding the violent firing upon them from the Fort, 42 brave and resolute fellows, sword in hand, boarded the enemy, and put them all to the sword; they then cut the cables, and took the vessel in tow, without having suffered the least loss in so perilous an engagement. His Majesty, to testify the satisfaction so glorious a behaviour gave him, has promoted the Sieur Gonzalo Piris and Manus Perez, who commanded, and given a large gratuity to the brave fellows who contributed to the success.

Amsterdam, Sept. 4. The Dutch merchants here are not a little uneasy at some late taxes imposed on the shipping of the Republic trading to the French settlements in the West-Indies; which is but a poor recompence for the services rendered to France last war, in certain mysterious branches of traffic, which could not be carried on safely in any other than neutral bottoms.

Hamburgh, Sept. 11. The reciprocal memorials and explanations which of late have passed between two powerful northern Courts, are now looked upon in the eyes of Politicians as little short of a prelude of hostilities; for as much as in the language of Princes, it signified little to talk of hearty inclinations, and sincere dispositions, to preserve the public tranquility, if at the same time they continue their complaints against each other, and refuse on both sides to give that satisfaction which they seem mutually to require.

A correspondent at Paris writes, that the Jesuits are moving heaven and earth to re-establish themselves in France. In the parliament of Provence, they have obtained a majority in their favour; in those of Grenoble, Besancon, Dijon and Metz, they have gained many votes; that of Douay is unanimous for them; and even in the parliaments of Paris, Rouen, Rennes, Toulouse, Bourdeaux and Pau, which have been so strenuous against them, they are now said to have several powerful friends.

October 11. Letters from Warsaw of the 15th of September, say, that their new King on receiving the Diploma of his election, addressed himself so movingly to the Primate, that he drew tears from the eyes of every one present, in which they were plentifully joined by his Majesty, but that they knew not what might be the object of it.

A correspondent at Amsterdam writes, that there were no less than seven ships of war upon the stocks at that port viz. two of 70 guns, one of 60, two of 50, and two of 40. At Rotterdam, one of 64, and two of 36 guns. And at Middleborough, in Zealand, three of different strengths. At Amsterdam, they were also busy in shipping 350 pieces of Ordnance for France, besides near 1000 tons of cordage.

We hear it has been resolved, in a late board held on the exorbitant demands of foreign commissaries, employed in the late German war, to trace the said bills to the fountain head; tho' a work of time, it is thought will be a national saving of many thousand pounds.

By letters from Madrid it appears, the French are like to meet with many difficulties in their projected trading scheme to the Spanish settlements in South America.

In the late dispatches to the Court of Madrid, among other important articles, are said to be contained express orders to the Earl of Rochefort, to demand Spain's final determination, with regard to the ransom of the Manillas: according to which our Ministry are to regulate certain affairs of importance now upon the carpet.

We can with good authority assure the public, that altho' by the last advices from Bengal, the East-India company were informed there had been a mutiny among the troops, instigated and encouraged by some French soldiers, about 150 in number, who had inlisted in the company's service; yet the same, at the time of dispatching those advices, was quelled, without the loss or desertion of a single European, except those Frenchmen abovementioned: And the same advices add, that the settlements were then in perfect safety; nor was it certain that Sujah Dowlar had espoused the cause of Cossim Ali, further than receiving him into his dominions, which was long ago known, his forces not having moved a step out of his own country.

Notice has been given at the General Post-Office, that the Lord Hyde Packet-boat, now lying at Falmouth, is to sail with the North American mail, which will be dispatched from the above office on Saturday next.

NEW-YORK, December 3.

We are credibly aſſured, that Sir William Johnſon propoſes calling down the Chiefs of every Nation this Winter to his Hall, on Buſineſs of great Importance to England, and the People in America. A great Number of Indians came to Sir William's the 6th of laſt Month. The whole we hope will terminate to the Honour of his Majeſty, and the general Benefit of his Subjects.

On Tueſday arrived the Sloop Friend, Capt. John Malcom, in 16 Days from Quebec, by whom we hear, that a conſiderable Quantity of Snow had already fallen there, and the Winter ſeemed to be ſet in earlier than uſual; but the People were generally healthy, and extremely happy under the Civil Government lately eſtabliſhed there, which was ſo judiciouſly regulated as to give general Satisfaction and Advantage both to the Engliſh and French; and the Appointment and Conduct of all the Officers in the Adminiſtration, eſpecially of his Excellency the Governor, met with the higheſt Approbation from all Ranks of People.

PHILADELPHIA, December 6.

On Monday laſt arrived here Major Small, in his Way to New-York, with Diſpatches from Col. BOUQUET to General GAGE; our Advices by that Gentleman are as follow.

That he left the Army in high Spirits, encamped at the Forks of Muſkingham, on the 18th ult. That the Expedition into the Indian Country has had the deſired Effect, the Mingoe, Delaware and Shawaneſe Indians, after a long Struggle, having at laſt ſubmitted to the Terms preſcribed to them, viz.

1. To deliver up all the Priſoners without Exception.

2. To give Fourteen Hoſtages, to remain in our Hands, as a Security for the ſtrict Performance of the foregoing Article; and that they ſhall commit no Hoſtilities againſt His Majeſty's Subjects.

That upon theſe Conditions they are permitted to ſend Deputies from each Nation to Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON, to make their Peace. That the Mingoes have given Two of the above mentioned Hoſtages, the Delawares Six, and the Shawaneſe Six. That from the preſent humble Diſpoſitions of the Savages, it was thought our Frontier Inhabitants might return in Safety to their deſerted Plantations. That the Indians had brought in above Two Hundred Priſoners before the Major left the Camp, and above One Hundred more were daily expected. That the Delawares and Mingoes have not only delivered all their Priſoners, but even their own Children, born by White Women. That the Shawaneſe had been very obſtinate, but were forced to ſubmit to the ſame Conditions as the other Nations. That the Enemy were ſaid to be in the greateſt Diſtreſs, having neither Proviſions, Cloathing nor Powder, their Women, we hear, being covered with Skins only, and the Men in a ſtill worſe Condition; and that it was generally believed they are now ſincere, and the Peace will be laſting, as they were convinced, at laſt, that even their Woods could not protect them, when followed by ſo brave and judicious a Commander, at the Head of a gallant, though but ſmall Army; it being remarked, that the whole of the Troops on the Expedition have behaved in the moſt regular Manner, and ſhewn the greateſt Activity and Reſolution; and it is particularly mentioned, that the Men from this Province have carried on the Service with great Zeal and Chearfulneſs, and that their Conduct does them Honour in every Reſpect. That the Troops of this Government were to be ſent immediately to Carliſle, and with them the Priſoners belonging to it. That the Army have been very healthy, and had met with no Loſs ſince they left Pittſburgh, only one of the Light Horſe, who was killed by ſome Indians, ſuppoſed to be Wyondotts, but that there were other Indians out after them, who promiſed to bring them in, if poſſible. And that the Colonel, with the Forces, it was expected, would be at Fort Pitt as Sunday laſt.

By the HONOURABLE
JOHN PENN, Eſq;
Lieutenant-Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of Pennſylvania, and Counties of New-Caſtle, Kent, and Suſſex, on Delaware,

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS I have received Advice from Col. HENRY BOUQUET, commanding His Majeſty's Forces on an Expedition againſt the DELAWARE and SHAWANESE INDIANS, and others concerned with them in committing Hoſtilities againſt His Majeſty's Subjects within this Province, That, at ſeveral Conferences he very lately held with the ſaid Enemy Indians, and SENECAS living on the Ohio, at TUSKERAWAS, MUSKINGHAM, and other Places in the Indian Country, they had, in the moſt humble and ſubmiſſive Manner, ſued for PEACE; and had agreed to, and complied with, the Terms he had preſcribed to them, by the actual delivering up above Two Hundred Priſoners, and giving Hoſtages, as a Security for reſtoring all that yet remain in their Poſſeſſion; and that they ſhould commit no further Hoſtilities againſt any of His Majeſty's Subjects: And, upon theſe Conditions, that he had granted the ſaid Delaware and Shawaneſe Indians, and Senecas living on the Ohio, Permiſſion to ſend DEPUTIES from their reſpective Tribes to Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON, His Majeſty's ſole Agent for Indian Affairs, to conclude with him a final and laſting Peace. I HAVE THEREFORE thought proper, by and with the Advice of the Council, to iſſue this Proclamation, hereby ſtrictly charging and commanding all Officers, Soldiers, and other His Majeſty's Subjects within my Government, that they ceaſe and forbear carrying on an offenſive War, or committing any Acts of Hoſtility againſt any of the ſaid Delaware, Shawaneſe or Seneca Indians, until my further Pleaſure ſhall be made known therein, as they will anſwer the contrary at their Peril.

Given under my Hand, and the Great Seal of the ſaid Province, at Philadelphia, the Fifth Day of December, in the Fifth Year of His Majeſty's Reign, and in the Year of our Lord One Thouſand Seven Hundred and Sixty-four.

JOHN PENN.

The following Manifeſto of the Empreſs of Ruſſia, relating to the late Aſſaſſination of Prince Ivan, having made a great Noiſe all over Europe, the publication of it in our Paper, will, we hope, be acceptable to our Readers.

CATHERINE II. by the Grace of God Empreſs and Sovereign of all the Ruſſias, &c. maketh known by theſe preſents to all to whom it appertains: "When, by the will of God, and agreeable to the unanimous wiſhes of all our faithful Subjects, we mounted the Throne of Ruſſia, we were not ignorant that Prince John, born of the marriage of Prince Anthony of Brunſwick Wolfenbuttle with the Princeſs Anne of Mecklenbourg, was ſtill alive: That Prince, as all the world knows, was no ſooner born than he was illegally appointed to wear the Imperial Crown of Ruſſia; but by the decrees of Providence, he was in a ſhort time after excluded for ever, and the ſcepter reverted to the lawful heir, daughter of Peter the Great, our moſt dear aunt, of glorious memory.

"Our firſt cares, on our acceſſion to the Throne, after having rendered our thankſgiving to Heaven, were, through an effect of the humanity, which is natural to us, to make as early as poſſible the fate of that Prince, dethroned by the Divine Will, and unhappy from his infancy. We propoſed immediately to ſee him ourſelves, to judge of the faculties of his mind, and to procure him, ſuitable to his character, and to the education which he had hitherto received, a tranquil and comfortable life. But what was our ſurpriſe to find, that beſides a ſtammering, incommodious to himſelf, and nearly incomprehenſible to others, he was abſolutely deprived of ſenſe and reaſon. All thoſe who were then with us, ſaw how much our heart ſuffered at the ſight of an object ſo proper to excite our compaſſion; and they were at the ſame time convinced, there remained nothing for us to do for that Prince, born ſo unhappily, but to leave him were he was, and to procure him all the indulgences ſuitable to his ſituation. We gave our orders in conſequence, tho' his condition did not permit him to be ſenſible of it, not knowing any body, nor being able to diſtinguiſh good from evil, nor to make uſe of books to paſs away the time; placing, on the contrary, all his felicity in things which ſhewed the diſorder of his imagination.

"To prevent, therefore, any attempts of evil-minded perſons, from particular views, to interrupt, in any manner whatever, or to make uſe of his perſon to trouble the public repoſe; we ordered him a ſure guard, and placed over him two honeſt and faithful officers of the garriſon. Theſe were Capt. Walſſieff and Lieut. Tſchekin, who, by their long ſervices in the military, where their health had greatly ſuffered, merited recompence, and an eaſy employ for the remainder of their days. It was recommended to thoſe two officers to take all imaginable care of his perſon.

"However, notwithſtanding all theſe precautions, it was impoſſible to prevent a villain, thro' a moſt unnatural, wicked propenſity, and in contempt even of his own life, from committing at Schluſſenbourgh a deed, the thought of which alone ſtrikes a terror. A Sub-Lieutenant of the regiment of Smolenſko, infantry, an Ukranian by birth, named Baſile Mirowitz, grandſon of the firſt rebel who followed Mazeppa, and to whom perjury was tranſmitted by blood, as appears, having paſſed his life in debauchery, diſſipation, and diſorder, and being thereby deprived of the means of making an honourable fortune; having at length loſt ſight of what he owed to the law of God, and the oath of fidelity which he had taken to us, not knowing Prince John but by name, and ſtill much leſs the qualities of his body and mind, took it into his head, to attempt to make, by his means, a ſhining fortune at whatever price, and however bloody the ſcene might prove to the public.

"For the Execution of this project, ſo deteſtable and dangerous for the country, and deſperate for himſelf, he demanded, during our journey into Livonia, that he might be ſent, though it was not his turn, to form the guard, which is relieved every eight days, in the fortreſs of Schluſſenbourg; and in the night between the 4th and 5th of laſt Month, at two hours after midnight, he ſuddenly awoke his grand guard, ranged them in front, and ordered them to charge with ball. Berednickoff, Commandant of the fortreſs, having heard a noiſe, ſallied out out of his quarter, and demanded the reaſon of Mirowitz himſelf; but all the anſwer he got from that rebel was a blow from the but-end of his muſket on his head, which wounded and ſtunned him. After this he furiouſly led his troop to attack and fire on the few ſoldiers who guarded Prince John; but the latter, who were found under the orders of the two Officers before-named, received him in ſuch a manner, that he was obliged to retire. By a particular direction of Providence, who watches over the lives of men, there was that night a very thick fog, which joined to the interior ſituation of the fortreſs, occaſioned no perſon to be killed or wounded.

"The ill ſucceſs of this firſt attempt could not make this enemy of the public repoſe deſiſt from his project of rebellion; deſpair ſuggeſted to him the bringing from a baſtion a piece of cannon with the neceſſary ammunition, which he ſoon accompliſhed. Captain Walſſieff and his Lieut. Tſchekin, ſeeing a force which they could not reſiſt, and a misfortune much greater, inevitable, if the charge to them confided was delivered up, by the innocent blood which it would coſt the country in ſuch troubles; they both reſolved on the only ſtep which they thought remained, that is to ſay, to ſecure the public tranquility by abridging the days of the unfortunate Prince. Conſidering, beſides this, that if they let a priſoner eſcape in ſuch a manner, they ſhould riſk being puniſhed according to all the rigour of the laws, they took away the life of the Prince, without being deterred by the fear of receiving death from the hand of a villain drove to deſperation. This monſter, ſeeing before him the body of a lifeleſs Prince, was ſo ſtruck with the unexpected blow, that he immediately acknowledged his raſhneſs and his crime, and diſcovered his repentance to his troop, which but an hour before he had ſeduced, and made accomplices of his villainy.

"It was then that the Officers, who had ſtifled this revolt in its birth, conjointly with the Commandant, ſecured the rebel, brought back the ſoldiers to their duty, and ſent to the Privy Councellor and Senator Panin (under whoſe orders they are) the report of this event, which though unhappy, may, by the protection of Heaven, have prevented a much greater misfortune.

"The Senator immediately ſent Lieut. Col. Caſchken with ſufficient inſtructions to ſecure tranquility and good order on the ſpot, and at the ſame time d ſpatched a courier to us with the detail of this affair. In conſequence of which, we ordered our Lieutenant General Weymarn, of the diviſion of St. Petersburgh, to repair to the place, and to get the neceſſary informations, which being finiſhed, he has juſt remitted to us the interrogatories, the depoſitions of the witneſſes, the convictions, and the villain's own confeſſion.

"Having acknowledged the greatneſs of this crime, and how much it concerns the repoſe of the whole country, we have laid the whole affair before our Senate, and ordered them, in conjunction with the Synod, to invite the three firſt claſſes, and the Preſidents of all the Colleges, to hear the report from the mouth of Lieutenant General Weymarn, who has gone through the informations, afterwards to pronounce ſentence according to the laws of the Empire, and, when it is ſigned, to preſent it to us for our confirmation."

Aug. 17, 1764. (L. S.) CATHERINE.

Verſailles, Oct. 8. The Count de Guerchy, his Majeſty's ambaſſador to the King of England, and the Counteſs de Guerchy, his lady, took leave of their Majeſties, and the Royal Family, on the 30th of laſt month, in order to return to London.

Admiralty Office, October 2.

By letters received from Commodore Paliſſer, dated at St. John's in Newfoundland, the 1ſt of laſt month, it appears, that having diſpatched a ſloop with a letter to the French Governor at St. Pierre, to enquire into the Truth of the Reports which prevailed of the French having mounted cannon, and erected works on that Iſland contrary to treaty, he, in anſwer, received aſſurances from the ſaid Governor, that there was only one four pounder gun mounted without a platform, and with no other intention than to anſwer ſignals to their fiſhermen in foggy weather; that there were no buildings or works erected contrary to Treaty; and that the guard conſiſted of no more than forty-ſeven men, and had never exceeded fifty. It farther appears by the Commodore's ſaid Letters, that there had not been, or were at that time, at the Iſlands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, more than one French ſhip of war of 50 guns, one Frigate of 26 guns, and another of leſs force, with two large ſhips en Flute; the deſtination of one of the ſaid ſhips en Flute being for Cayenne, and the other for St. Domingo: That none of thoſe ſhips had, and the Commanding Officer aſſured the Commodore, none of them would, enter into any of the harbours on the Coaſts of Newfoundland. And the Commodore adds, that the concurrent Fiſhery in thoſe parts of the ſaid coaſts, whereon the French are by Treaties permitted to fiſh, had been carried on in perfect tranquility.

LONDON.

Oct. 2. We hear the department of his Excellency Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON, is going to be put on a better and more regular footing than heretofore, much to the advantage of our northern colonies.

A Wine-Merchant at Leipſic, accuſed of unfair practices in trade, ſuch as adulterating his wine, &c. and alſo of having made a fraudulent bankruptcy, has been condemned to draw the wheel barrow ſix years in the fortifications of that city, and to wear a yellow bonnet during the time.

A private letter from the Hague mentions, that three new objects of attention and concern to the Dutch, have lately ariſen, viz. the riſing ſtate of the Britiſh fiſhery in the Northern ſeas; the revival of the Pruſſian mercantile company at Embden; and the confirmed great naval preparations of all the maritime powers of Europe, particularly thoſe engaged in the late war. The firſt bids fair to rival them in their fiſhery; the ſecond, in ſome intereſting branches of trade; and the laſt cannot fail of being beheld with a very jealous eye, which already manifeſts itſelf in the appointment of two additional packets to the Eaſt and Weſt-Indies.

This week the Right Hon. the Earl of Hilſborough, Firſt Lord of Trade, ſent a benefaction of 50l. to Batſon's coffee-houſe, for the poor Palatines.

Diſpoſitions are now taking for the more regular ſupply of freſh proviſions for the garriſon of Gibraltar, from the Spaniſh ſide, in caſe it ſhould be found neceſſary to correct the late inſolencies of Algier, and the other pyratical ſtates, and conſequen ly the garriſon be cut ſhort in their wonted ſupplies from the Barbary ſhore.

It is ſaid the ſcheme for raiſing ſome millions on annuities for lives, is again upon the carpet.

A Letter from a Gentleman at Martinico, dated Auguſt the 1ſt, mentions, that divers new fortifications are carrying on both in that iſland and Guadaloupe; that the French are buying up by commiſſion ſeveral Bermuda built veſſels, formerly Privateers in the late War, to be employed, as they give out, as Guineymen.

Oct. 3. On Thurſday laſt, as a gentleman of family and fortune, who has a ſeat in Berkſhire, was coming to town with his family, one of his carriages broke down within 14 miles of London, which laid him under the neceſſity of hiring poſt-chaiſes for the remainder of his journey. The gentleman's daughter, who is 23 years of age, and reckoned a great beauty, ſeemed particularly affected with a very ſmart fellow of an hoſtler, who diſtinguiſhed himſelf by his activity, in getting the horſes put to the chaiſes, &c. In reward for his dexterity, the young lady enquired his name, made him a handſome preſent at that time, ſent for him on the Friday following, and married him with a ſpecial licence on Sunday. It is ſaid ſhe has 20,000l. independent of her friends.

Oct. 11. Letters from Copenhagen of the 18th ult. aſſert, that about 150 antique manuſcripts in the Oriental, Arabian, and Hebrew languages, were arrived there by way of Alexandria, from the gentlemen whom the King of Denmark ſent into Egypt and Arabia, to make obſervations, and a collection of manuſcripts and other rarities.

Saturday morning died at his lodgings near Kenſington, aged 94, Robert Godfrey, Eſq; who was a Captain of Horſe at the battle of the Boyne, under William the Third.

Oct. 15. A report prevailed at Vienna on the 29th paſt, that their truce with the Ottoman court was renewed for 25 years, but as no public declaration had then been made of it, the matter was much doubted.

Extract of a private letter (brought by the Pigot Indiaman) from the camp of Doudnagur, in Bengal, dated March 5, 1764.

"Notwithſtanding the great ſucceſs we met with in our late campaign, our affairs here are far from wearing a peaceful aſpect. Coſſim Ali Cawn, late Nabob of Bengal, has purchaſed, at an immenſe price, the alliance of Sujah Doulah, a very powerful neighbouring Subah; yet I think it is to be queſtioned, if, in conjuction, they dare diſpute the ſuperiority of our victorious arms. But cunning and treachery are the characteriſtics of moſt Orientals; and thoſe perhaps, may prove the ſource of freſh troubles to us."

Oct. 16. A gentleman, a priſoner in the rules of the King's bench, a branch of the famiiy of the Hydes, Earls of Clarendon, has got a moſt remarkable coffin by him, againſt his interment; is made out of a fine ſolid oak which grew on his eſtate in Kent, and hollowed out with a chizzel, it is 8 feet in length, about 4 feet in breadth, 4 inches thick on the ſides, and 7 inches and an half at the ends, the lid is 3 inches thick, made out of the ſame oak: When the corpſe comes to be put in, after death, it is to be faſtened down with oaken pegs, the weight of it is 500lb. and was not long ſince filled with punch, which held 41 gallons, 2 quarts, and one pint and a half. The ſaid gentleman often lies down and ſleeps in his coffin with the greateſt compoſure and ſecurity.

A correſpondent from Paris informs us, that there are now in that city no leſs than four well frequented academies for teaching the rudiments of the Engliſh tongue, and that one Mr. Cartwright, formerly uſher to a boarding ſchool in London, has no leſs than 300 French youths of diſtinction under his care.

By a letter from Paris we are adviſed, that an additional impoſt is ſoon expected to be laid on the exportation of ſalt out of the kingdom, except to their own colonies in the Weſt-Indies.---Our correſpondent adds, that ſhould this ſcheme actually take place, as great quantities of ſalt are annually exported by the Engliſh from Rochelle, Oleron, St. Martin's, &c. to Newfoundland, there will be the more reaſon to ſuſpect that M. de Eſtaing's proceedings at Turk's Iſland was the conſequence of a premeditated plan, to co-operate with meaſures at home, to ſtrike an effectual blow to the very root of the Britiſh fiſhery.

By a gentleman lately come from the Havanna, we are informed, that the climate of that place is much mended ſince the cutting down the ſeveral large forreſts which ſurrounded that city on the land-ſide; 30,000 of which trees have been appropriated for the purpoſes of ſhip-building.

We hear that a Memorial is preparing to be laid before a certain great Board, on the ſubject of our Newfoundland fiſhery, and the cutting of logwood.

By the Lord Hyde Packet, Captain Goddard, arrived at New-York from Falmouth, we have the following Advices.

HAGUE, September 30.

IT is rumoured here, that no leſs than three different memorials of complaint have lately been preſented to the States-General. One from Genoa, that the malecontents of Corſica are underhand ſupplied with ammunition and warlike ſtores by Dutchmen. France complains that the ſame injurious traffick is carried on by the ſubjects of the Republick with the pyratical ſtates, with whom they are at war; while England pretends to take exceptions at ſome late contracts with the merchants of Amſterdam, &c. whereby ſome thouſand tons of ordnance, ſhip timber, cordage, and other naval ſtores, are to be furniſhed for the uſe of the French marine.

Florence, Sept. 15. Some letters, ſaid to be received by the way of Bologna, ſay, that the Chevalier de St. George was ſeized with a fit of apoplexy on the 14th inſt. and though he had been let blood ſeveral times, he continued in a ſituation from which nothing could be decided.

Paris, Sept. 8. Although the edicts and arrets of the French Monarch are as ſtrict as the acts of commerce and navigation of other States, as to prohibiting foreigners from trading in their iſlands and colonies in America, nevertheleſs they do not think their laws ought to remain unalterable, according to the maxim of the Medes and Perſians; for it having been repreſented that the Dutch, from their late prudent encouragement of foreigners in the Weſt-Indies, have engroſſed a certain very lucrative trade with the Spaniards, and even Engliſh; diſcretionary powers have lately been tranſmitted to the ſeveral officers in that part of the world, to diſpenſe with all ſuch laws as ſhall appear for the benefit of the colonies, and without prejudice to the trade and navigation of France.

LONDON.

October 9. Laſt Sunday morning the Palatines broke up their camp behind Whitechapel church. The treaſurer, and other Gentlemen, of the very benevolent Committee, attended on that occaſion, and accompanied them to the water ſide, and particularly the Rev. Mr. Wachſell, who has been indefatigable during their abode in England, and whoſe pious labours are above all praiſe. His taking leave of them was a moſt moving ſpectacle, tears flowing on both ſides, eſpecially from the ſick, and pregnant women who were near their time. Many of the perſons preſent could not refrain from ſympathizing with them. They were carried in lighters to the ſhips lying at Blackwall, ſinging hymns all the way, and a great number of boats filled with ſpectators attending them, who ſeemed greatly affected with their devout behaviour, and demonſtrations of gratitude to the nation which had ſo hoſpitably treated them.

We are credibly informed, that never leſs than twenty-five thouſand ſeamen will be kept upon the navy liſt, in this or any future peace.

Some foreign advices mention, that the Dey of Algiers has cauſed it to be notified to the ſeveral powers with whom the regency is at peace, that in lieu of the preſents occaſionally made him, or on the renewal of treaties, he expects a ſhip of war compleatly furniſhed, of a certain force, and ſtored with ammunition, to be navigated into the port of Algiers.

Extract of a letter from Algiers, Sept. 12.

'Near 800 ſlaves are conſtantly employed here in making a back water, ſufficient to contain the whole Algerine navy ſecure from the effects of a bombardment, and ſtrongly flanked with nine batteries of heavy cannon. Perhaps you may wonder how this petty ſtate is bold enough to maintain almoſt conſtant hoſtilities with half the naval powers of Europe; but ſo long as they continue to be ſupplied with ammunition and warlike ſtores from the other half, with whom they are at peace, it is no ſurprize they ſhould ridicule the report that Spain, in conjunction with the ſtates of Italy, are arming on an expedition againſt them. Europe has ſeen a much more formidable power than Spain can pretend to, ſome years ago, and even at this juncture, trifled with, after a long diſpute about an illegal capture by the Algerine Dey.'

Oct. 11. We are informed that the parliament will certainly meet about the middle of December, to vote the land and malt taxes, for every ſubſtantial reaſons; which being done, they will adjourn to about the 20th of January 1765, for other buſineſs; and it is believed the ſeſſion will be very ſhort.

Letters from Poland mention, that his Poliſh Majeſty had granted his moſt gracious pardon to Count Branitzki, late Great General of the Crown, and to all his Adherents.

By the French mail there is advice, that the repeated captures of ſo many valuable merchant ſhips, by the Barbary Rovers, have, at length, determined the Miniſtry to proceed againſt them with the utmoſt rigour; and all the ſhips now appointed on this expedition are furniſhed with oars, and are of the moſt ſwift ſailing conſtruction that can be picked out.

They write from Aitena, that the late difference between the Courts of Vienna and Naples is compromiſed.

Oct. 16. Private letters from Warſaw ſay, that Count Branicki has written to the King, aſſuring him, that in conſequence of the unanimity of his election, he was determined to ſubmit to and acknowledge him. He is ſpeedily expected at his uſual place of reſidence. Count Potocki, with two regiments of horſe, is gone to take free quarters, on the lands of the Biſhop of Cracow.

CORK, October 8.

Extract of a letter from William Alexander, private, in Lord Drogheda's light horſe, part of whom were concerned in an action with the Levellers or White Boys, in the county of Kilkenny, dated Clonmell, October 1, 1764.

"Serjeant Johnſton, a corporal, and 12 private men of our regiment, on an eſcort of 9 levellers from Carrick to Kilkenny goal, were laſt Saturday attacked by a great number of White Boys, armed with guns, ſwords, bill-hooks, hatchets, &c. at a place called Sheep's-town, about 6 miles from Carrick. Our men behaved with undaunted reſolution, and made great havock while their ammunition laſted; but that being expended, and the enemy increaſing, they thought it time to ſecure a retreat from amidſt the crowd, leaving the ſerjeant and one dragoon behind, who were moſt inhumanly butchered; three more of our men are deſperately wounded, and their lives deſpaired of. Twenty-nine men, and two women, of the Levellers, were killed, beſides wounded. When the firſt intelligence of this affair was received here, the remainder of two troops marched to the aſſiſtance of our brave companions, but arrived too late, and all we could ſee at that place was dead bodies, legs and arms; in ſearching the country we found ſeveral wounded men and women, whom we ſent to goal, and I hear ſome of them are this day dead of their wounds. On our traverſe we diſcovered two men, who fled at our appearance, and not chuſing to ſubmit, were killed in the purſuit. That part of the country ſeems in ſhort to be almoſt depopulated, and as for the effect this rebellious ſpirit may have in other parts, time alone can ſhew."

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in the County of Tipperary to his Friend in this City, dated near Clonmell, October 3.

"Perhaps the hearing of our riots may not be diſagreeable to you, although at the coſt of Two-pence, for it is almoſt open war in the county of Kilkenny. Laſt week three fellows that had been taken and confined in Carrick, turned King's evidence; in conſequence thereof, an officer, with a party of light horſe, took nine fellows, which they were ſending under a ſergeant and twelve men to Kilkenny goal: They had got as far as a place called Sheep's-town, when there met them above 400 people in a narrow road, attending a coffin filled with ſcythes, bill-hooks, and the inſtruments they cut turf with; about half the croud paſſed the party and priſoners, when they threw down the coffin, took out the weapons, and ruſhed in upon the dragoons, who were on foot, and who behaved as well and as brave as any men could do; they knocked down the ſergeant, whoſe name was Johnſton, and got his carbine out of his hand, which they fired directly at him; he however got another, and had the ſatisfaction, it is ſaid, to kill the perſon who gave him his mortal wound, with another of them, and died about 100 yards from the field of battle; there was alſo one Finch, a brave fellow, who was cut almoſt to pieces, and ſince dead; and every other man of the party deſperately wounded, but believe will all recover. Four of the men, who it was thought were running away, turned ſhort (as ſoon as they diſengaged themſelves from the croud) and got behind a blind ditch, within a few paces of the mob, and fired away all their ammunition, 16 rounds a man (in platoons) before they were knocked down, which from all accounts did great execution; ſome reports ſay 24 were killed outright, and others only 17, and a great number wounded; three of which were taken deſperately wounded the night before laſt: And it is alſo reported a great many others are taken, as there are ſeveral other parties in queſt of them. An officer yeſterday told me, he was informed a party was ſent down to Waterford, in queſt of about ten who were wounded, and went there to be cured. Lord Carrick, and ſeveral gentlemen, are exerting themſelves a good deal in that country; and indeed, it is to be hoped, every well-wiſher to our conſtitution will do the like. A great number aſſembled the latter end of laſt week about Ardfinan, went to the Rev. Mr. Fowlkes's ground, and took a tenant of his out of his houſe, whom they abuſed in a terrible manner, for taking a piece of ground from him which he had formerly ſet to ſome White Boys; and they are alſo, in ſeveral parts of this country, meeting every week, and deſtroying the tythe-corn, &c. wherever they are to be met with."

On an information given to a juſtice of peace of the county of Kilkenny laſt Saturday ſe'nnight, that ſeveral of the White Boys who were concerned in the above reſcue, and in the attack on a party of light horſe, were in his neighbourhood, requeſted of the commanding officer at Kilkenny to ſend him immediately three companies of troops, in order to take charge of ſome priſoners and carry them to the goal of Kilkenny.----That evening about ſix, the three companies left town, and returned the next evening about the ſame hour with ſix men and two women, all which were wounded, and brought to town on cars or truckles.----Two of the above men have ſince died of their wounds in goal. Four more of thoſe fellows have been found dead in the Deer Park, belonging to Lord Mount Morris, near Kilkenny, of the wounds they received; and it is certain a great many have died in that way.---Since the above, upwards of 500 of the White Boys appeared at night about Callen, and have been ſo daring laſt Monday and Tueſday nights, as to go within half a mile of the demeſne of the Right Hon. the Lord Deſart.---The gentlemen in that neighbourhood, are obliged to have their horſes in ſtable before night, leſt they ſhould be taken away and harraſſed by theſe rebels.---Several Nights laſt week, at leaſt 600 of the White Boys appeared in and about the town of Thurles, in the county of Tipperary, dreſſed in their uſual uniform; and without ſome ſteps are ſpeedily taken, to prevent theſe commotions, it is feared theſe rebels will riſe in other counties.

BOSTON, November 29.

We hear that the Sloop---Capt. Barnes, in her Paſſage from Ireland to New-London, about the Middle of September laſt, ſuddenly ſprung a Leak and foundered about 20 or 30 Leagues from Fyall: About the ſame Time a Veſſel bound into Fyall happily hove in Sight, and took the People on board.---The Sloop belonged to Middletown.

Laſt Friday Briton, a Negro Man, was ſeverely whipp'd 10 Stripes under the Gallows on the Neck, and 20 Stripes at the Cart's Tail at two public Places in Town, purſuant to his Sentence, for attempting to raviſh a Woman on the Road in Braintree.

NEW-YORK, December 6.

On Tueſday Evening, we hear, came to Town three Officers, and 45 Men belonging to the Jerſey Blues, from Albany.

We have no Accounts from Authority from the Army, but it is rumoured, that the famous Pondiac finding the other Indian Nations had made Peace with the Engliſh, had ſent a Meſſage, with a String of Wampum, deſiring to be included in the Treaty; that Col. Bradſtreet broke the Wampum, and ſent back the Meſſengers to acquaint him that he muſt come himſelf, or ſend his Son; but that he found pretences to decline both, however that at laſt Peace was concluded with him.

A Snow was ſeen laſt Night ſtanding off and on near the Hook, ſaid to be bound for Philadelphia.

Laſt Night arrived the Brig Bumper Captain Duncan Brown, from Ivica, in the Mediterranean, laſt from Newfoundland. We have Advice, that the Algerines have taken many Veſſels under Engliſh Colours, and with Engliſh Paſſes, belonging to other Nations; and that the Perſons who have granted thoſe Paſſes will be called to Account for it in England. At Naples, the Plague ſucceeded the Famine, and carried off great Numbers. A large Ship that went from Virginia, loaded with Wheat, was arrived there from Dublin, her Cargo much damaged.

PHILADELPHIA, December 13.

Since our laſt Captain Thomas Leake arrived here from Cork, who, in the late Storm, had all his Sails ſplit; and after it was over, ſpoke with a Brig from North-Carolina for Linn, in England, who had ſuffered greatly in ſaid Storm, being obliged to throw overboard about Thirty Tons of her Cargoe, ſhe was ſo very leaky, and was bearing away for the Weſt-Indies. He ſaw ſeveral other Veſſels, who had all been in the Gale, but had not received much Damage.

The Sloop Eliſabeth, Captain Killgour, from this Port for New-York, is caſt away on Brigantine Beach; the Veſſel and Cargoe intirely loſt, and one Man drowned.

For the Entertainment of the CURIOUS,

A COURSE of ELECTRICAL EXPERIMENTS, with explanatory LECTURES, is propoſed to be exhibited at the College, in this City, on Thurſday and Friday the 27th and 28th Inſtant, and again on Thurſday and Friday the 3d and 4th of January.

By EBENEZER KINNERSLEY, M. A. Profeſſor of Engliſh and Oratory in the College and Academy of Philadelphia.

This Courſe will be divided into two Lectures; in which, among many other Particulars, it will be ſhewn, that the ELECTRIC FIRE, produced by the Friction of Glaſs, or any other Electric Subſtance, is not the ſame with CULINARY FIRE, but is real LIGHTNING, the very ſame, in all Reſpects, with that which is ſeen and heard in a THUNDER-GUST; and that our Bodies, at all Times, contain enough of it to ſet a Houſe on Fire.

Above fifty curious Experiments will be made on LIGHTNING; the principal Laws by which it always acts will be exhibited and explained; and a practical Method ſhewn, and an Inſtance given, of the happy Succeſs thereof in this City, whereby Houſes, Ships, &c. may be preſerved from being damaged by LIGHTNING.

As no One need feel the Effect of any of theſe Experiments, but thoſe who chooſe it, and as the Quantity of LIGHTNING made uſe of will be but ſmall, the moſt timorous Perſon need not apprehend being either hurt or terrified. Therefore, as the Knowledge of Nature tends to enlarge the human Mind, and give us more noble, more grand and exalted Ideas of the Author of Nature, it is preſumed that this Courſe of Experiments will meet with Encouragement, as a rational and commendable Entertainment.

Thoſe who deſire to have their Dwellings effectually ſecured from the deſtructive Violence of one of the moſt awful Powers of Nature, may hereby learn more of the Nature and Properties of LIGHTNING than was ever known in the World till lately; and, at the ſame time, be fully convinced, that the Method propoſed for their Security will, if put in Practice, be attended with the deſired Succeſs; and conſequently, that Mankind, inſtead of having any juſt Objection thereto, have great Reaſon to bleſs GOD for ſo uſeful a Diſcovery. For, "A prudent Man foreſeeth the Evil, "and hideth himſelf; but the Simple paſs on, and are puniſhed." Prov. xxii. 3.

The Lecture to begin, each Day, preciſely at Eleven o'Clock. Tickets to be had at the London Coffee-Houſe, or at Mr. KINNERSLEY's Houſe, near the College. Price Half a Dollar for each Lecture. *

BRESLAU, August 23.

LETTERS from Posnania in Poland are full of the most dreadful accounts of the ravages made there by the fire which happened the 3d or 4th of this month. Great part of the city is entirely destroyed, 3 houses only are standing in that quarter which the Jews inhabited. The loss occasioned by this terrible accident is valued at several millions.

Leghorn, Aug. 21. The usual cargoes of timber and other necessary materials which used to be transported to Algiers, for the purposes of ship-building, are this year stopped by order of the Regency.

Vienna, Sept. 1. Ten thousand horses of remount are at present on the road for Bohemia, Moravia, and Hungary. They are transporting there also with the greatest diligence, a large quantity of bombs and ball. An ordinance of the Empress Queen is going to appear, for compleating the regiments both of horse and foot. Letters Patent of her Imperial and Royal Majesty, grant an Amnesty to all deserters that shall rejoin their regiments within three months.

All the letters from Hungary confirm the account of the march of the Ottoman troops towards Moldavia and Wallachia; but the motives for these motions are not yet certainly known. The reports concerning them are various. The Court has sent orders to the three divisions of the troops distributed in Croatia and Sclavonia, which amount to about 56,000 men, to hold themselves in readiness to march. So many horses are bought up in Hungary, for the army, that there are scarce enough left for private uses.

Lisbon, Aust. 14. The Court has received letters from the Bay of All Saints, that the vessel which was expected there from Goa, and for which they began to be uneasy, arrived there in April, with advice, that the Count Eghas, Vice Roy of Goa, had taken several fortresses on the coast of the Malabars, and destroyed several of their ships.

Leghorn, Aug. 27. By a letter from Tangier, of the 18th, we learn, that an English frigate of war arrived off that port on the 13th, the commander of which, by an interpreter, claimed the Genoese Polacre, which had been carried off by the Algerines, and declared good prize by the Dey, although it was navigated under English colours, and had a passport from the Governor of Mahon. The Dey answered, that the Polacre having been adjudged lawful prize by the Divan, had been sold, and that the English might do what they would. The Commander of the frigate sailed immediately to make his report to Com. Harrison; and we are impatient to know what step will be taken on this head by the Court of London.

Constantinople, Aug. 1. The Porte has granted safeguard and protection to Prince Radzivill, Palatine of Wilna, for his own person, his effects, and his retinue; and we hear that he is arrived in Moldavia, with 1200 attendants.

Madrid, Sept. 4. By a French ship which is put into Corunna, we have advice, that the negroes on the side of Juida, in Africa, have lately made upon their neighbours, with whom they are always at war, upwards of 10,000 prisoners; a circumstance which will hasten the loading of our ships.

Warsaw, Sept. 10. We cannot describe the joy which since the election, so quietly begun, and so happily finished, reigns in the hearts of all persons here. The proceedings of the new King justify this election, and already promise the nation a gentle reign. What his Majesty has done, and what he has said these three days, excite a general applause.

Besides this actual King, so respectable by his birth, and so cherished for his virtues, it is reckoned he had two competitors, Count Potocky, Waywode of Kiow; and Prince Lubomirsky, Sub-Pantler of the Crown. The latter was not present at the election, under the pretext of an indisposition. As to the Prince Bishop of Cracow, Prince Lubomirsky, Waywode of Lublin, and Count Ossolensky, Waywode of Volhinia, who, like other malecontents, have absented themselves from the Dyet, it is resolved that 8000 of the Crown Troops, with a few thousand Russians, shall be quartered upon their lands this winter.

Dresden, Sept. 10. Saxony having lent considerable sums to Poland during the reigns of Augustus the Second and Third, and that Republic having then engaged to clear the money borrowed within a year, in case the Crown of Poland should go to any other house than that of Saxony, Commissioners are appointed to settle the considerable pretensions of Saxony, in order to consider of an effectual method of paying off the sums that have been advanced.

Berlin, Sept. 20. Through the mediation of his Prussian Majesty, to whom Prince Radzivill, Palatine of Wilna, has been strongly recommended by the Ottoman Porte, it is thought that Nobleman, setting aside those lands appropriated for the satisfaction of his creditors, will soon be restored to his estates and honours.

Ferrol, Sept. 1. The Court has sent orders to the Marquis de Croix, Captain General of Galicia, to draw 84 men out of each of the three regiments garrisoned in that province, to form, with the piquets of several other regiments in Castile, a battalion, which we presume is destined for Louisiana.

Genoa, Sept. 8. We wait here with impatience for the confirmation of a piece of news, according to which the vessels which sailed from this port some time since, with troops and provisions for San Fiorenzo, have attacked some Corsican ships with success, and thrown succours into the place, without having sustained any other loss than that of a Felucca laden with warlike stores.

Naples, Sept. 11. Don William Ludoff, the King's Envoy at Constantinople, has acquainted his Majesty, that the two ships and eight sailors which the Corsairs of Tripoli took some time ago, contrary to the tenor of the truce which then subsisted between our Court and the Porte, have been restored to him in very good condition, and that the truce is renewed; which behaviour of the Ottoman Porte is extremely agreeable to our Court.

We learn by the same channel, that the town of Valone in Upper Albania, having failed in the payment of their annual tribute to the Grand Signior, his Highness sent a Bashaw, at the head of 20,000 men, to force them to obedience; but that the inhabitants having joined the Cimariots, killed 6000 of the people sent against them, and among them the Bashaw himself, wounded several others, and put the rest to flight.

Madrid, Sept. 7. The Spanish Ministry continue the pursuit of such measures as they judge will be most for the benefit of the monarchy, exclusive of a land army consisting of 24,000 effective men added to the establishment. One M'Namar is to have the command of a secret expedition, which, it is said, will consist of five ships of the line, besides transports. Their destination is conjectured to be for the Philippine Islands.

Warsaw, Sept. 18. His Majesty dined last week some days with the Prince Primate, at others with the Princes Czartorinski. There was a drawing-room at the Royal Palace on Wednesday and Saturday, and all the Grandees appeared there in splendid habits. His Majesty has returned the visits of the Ambassadors who are here. He has also paid one to the Prince de Repnin, Minister Plenipotentiary from Russia, who gave, the day before yesterday, in his Hotel, the most superb feast we have seen a long time. Both the inside and outside of the Hotel were magnificently illuminated, having lamps in front, representing the name of his Majesty, and the words, "Elected on the 7th of September, "1764." After a ball of some hours, an opera was performed analagous to the occasion. They supped afterwards at four tables, which were splendidly served, and when supper was ended, the ball began a-new, and lasted till break of day. His Majesty, who honoured with his presence this brilliant feast, did not return to his palace till it was entirely over.

Warsaw, Sept. 22. As some of the Magnates persevere in their opposition to the General Confederacy, and refuse to acknowledge the King, and as mild measures make no impression on them, Prince Czartoryski, the Grand Regimentary, has ordered two regiments of horse, and ten companies of foot, to go and live at discretion in the Bishoprick of Cracovia.

Hamburgh, Oct. 2. According to advices from Warsaw, the new King of Poland, a few days after his election, called a Council of State, at which he made some propofals for improving the military establishment, and augmenting the troops of the of the crown; and in order to defray the expence which would result from this alteration, his Majesty offered to give up half the product of the salt mines, which are a part of the royal demesnes. This generous instance of his disinterestedness, strengthens the ideas that were before justly formed of his great merit.

Warsaw, Sept. 25. The King continues to answer the expectations of the nation, by his application to public affairs, and his great easiness of access upon all occasions. His Majesty is constantly appointing the persons who are to compose his Court, and the choice he makes is universally approved of.

Hamburgh, Oct. 5. Advices from some places insinuate, that the King of Poland is by no means firmly established in his new throne, a neighbouring power, as these advices pretend, being determined to leave no stone unturned to dethrone him. The authors of this news ground their opinion upon the behaviour of Count Branitzki, the Great General of the Crown, and upon the step taken by the Bishop of Cracovia, in retiring from Warsaw without assisting at the Dyet of Election. It is easy to understand that the power hinted at is the Ottoman Porte; but supposing that Court to have formed such a design, how should it succeed, when the King, besides the forces of his own kingdom, would undoubtedly be supported by the Courts of Petersbourg and Berlin?

Milan, Sept. 19. The Court of Vienna has ordered all the regiments in Austrian Lombardy to be completed, and the magazines there to be furnished with provisions and ammunition.

Paris, Oct. 1. The Chevalier de Turgot, and M. de Behagne, one of whom is appointed Commandant General, and the other Governor General of the Guyanne, embarked the 23d ult. for that place. Our Ministry propose to improve the settlements in that colony as well as the Cayenne. The Guyanne is situated between the rivers of Oronoke and of the Amazons, to the east of Peru, abounds with sugar canes, and enjoys a perpetual spring. The Dutch have a part of it; and what belongs to us is an extent of 120 leagues. The Cayenne is a small island 18 leagues in circumference, upon the coast of the Guyanne, 30 leagues south-east of Surrinam, produces Indigo superior to that of Guatimala, fine Cotton, Cocoa, and Cinnamon; besides fine woods for cabinet work, and some silver mines. We settled there in 1635, gave it up to the English in 1654, retook it from them ten years afterwards, were obliged to cede it to the Dutch in 1676, and established ourselves there again the year following.

Hamburgh, Oct. 2. The last letters from Poland say, that the Russian troops which are now in the interior parts of Poland, may perhaps winter there, or, at least, stay the coronation; but that those of them near the confines have already made several retrograde movements.

Hamburgh, Oct. 4. The reconciliation of his Polish Majesty to Count Branitzki, late General of the Crown, is said to have been chiefly effected by the Count's solemn assurances to use the most strenuous endeavours to influence the Porte, and in particular the Cham of the Tartars, with favourable dispositions towards his Majesty, and the present situation of affairs, by his accession to the Crown.

Dantzick, Sept. 28. Although his Polish Majesty has little occasion to be apprehensive of the power of the Ottoman Porte, nevertheless we are informed, that exclusive of the Russian troops now ready to assist him against all foreign opposition, should occasion require, a body of 90,000 warlike Cossacks from the banks of the Boristhenes, can be marched to the frontiers to second the views of his Majesty's allies. These Cossacks are entirely devoted to the service of Russia, and their present Hetman, or Head Commander, is Count Rasomouski, President of the Imperial Academy of Sciences at Petersburgh.

LONDON.

Sept. 22. Yesterday arrived a mail from New-York, brought by the Duke of Cumberland Packet-boat, Capt. Goodridge.

We hear the several guard-ships are speedily to be manned with their full complement, according to the rate of each; not as heretofore, three parts with invalids from hospitals, but able seamen; from whence occasional draughts may be made with more ease when men are wanted; the number to be regularly kept up by means of rendezvouses at Portsmouth, Plymouth, and Sheerness.

They advise from Saxony, that all the regiments of infantry in that electorate were compleating their complements of men, and horses were buying up to remount their cavalry.

The Monmouth, Clarke, from Virginia, was lost going into Liverpool, but part of the cargo is saved.

"The Spaniards here are indefatigable in repairing the fortifications, and adding new works, which they boast to be impregnable. The whole village of Guadaloupe has been demolished, in order to make room for a covered way, clear from the city to Antonio Hill. The fortress of the Cavannas is already finished, with the addition of several half-moons, bastions, and other works, bomb-proof; and the regulars, by fresh reinforcements from Old Spain, amount to 15,000 men, excluding a well trained militia, and armed negroes."

Sept. 25. It is feared an immediate impress for seamen will be unavoidable, as those hitherto come in are but very few, in comparison of the number wanted to man the ships daily putting in commission, which we are credibly informed, will exceed 30 sail of the line.

They write from Vienna of the 4th instant, that the Marquis de Conflans, Lieutenant General of the French armies, was arrived there; and, after staying two days, proceeded on his journey for Poland, and the other Northern Courts.

Sept. 27. We learn from Petersburgh, that her Imperial Majesty has directed the Senate to take into their particular consideration the propereft methods for repairing and augmenting the Marine, providing for the reception and entertainment of persons of all nations sent to settle in the provinces of Russia, and the prosecuting with all possible diligence, the new discoveries on the side of Japan.

If credit may be given to some private advices from Stockholm, the greatest part of the men of war which for some years past have been building in the ports of Sweden, and now nearly ready to be launched, are not so much for the augmentation of our own royal navy, as in consequence of a late contract with France, said to be entered into in the year 1758, whereby the latter were to be furnished with a certain number of line of battle ships, compleatly rigged, and navigated into the ports of l'Orient, Brest, or Rochfort, by Swedish seamen.

It is said the state of the British Sugar Colonies, so far as relates to some burthensome taxes they at present labour under, and which the French and Dutch Islands are wholly exempted from, even to their rivalling us in foreign markets, is now under consideration.

Oct. 2. They write from Vienna, that a marriage between the King of the Romans and the Princess of Portugal, is soon to take place.

Divers samples of the New-England Beaver manufactury have lately been imported from Boston; some hats in particular, for their fineness and texture, are greatly esteemed.

Extract of a Letter from Vienna, Sept. 4.

"Orders have been sent to march 10,000 Sclavonians to the frontiers of Servia, in order to have an eye on a large body of Turkish infantry, and several squadrons of horse, which the Bashaw of Belgrade has been assembling for some time, under colour of changing garrisons; the Bashaw has indeed informed the Commandant at Semlin, that no hostilities were intended; notwithstanding which, as it is pretty evident the Ottoman Porte have at present some extraordinary design in view, our court is resolved to take all necessary precautions to prevent being surprized."

Oct. 4. A letter from Warsaw, dated the 10th ult. brings advice, that his Polish Majesty received on the 8th, the compliments of congratulation from the Primate, the Pope's Nuncio, and foreign Ambassadors. And about 11 o'clock in the forenoon, his Majesty, attended by a great number of the Nobility, went to the cathedral church of St. John; and in the evening there was a grand assembly at the Castle for ladies of the first rank, which lasted till after 10 o'clock. On the 9th his Majesty received the compliments of the Senators, Nobility, &c. and at night there was a drawing room.

A rescript has been lately published in the Dutchy of Courland, importing that the Republic of Poland having, in the most solemn manner, acknowledged the incontestable right of Duke John Ernest, her Imperial Majesty of all the Russias, at the request of the Republic, is resolved to restore the tranquility of that Dutchy, by supporting the said Duke; and treating, as public enemies and traitors to their country, such as shall any way presume to disturb his government.

It is now reported that the result of some late important Conferences, Councils, &c. at the west end of the town, has been to give no further credit to French and Spanish faith than may be be consistent with British sagacity and past experience; that there are evident grounds to conclude, from authentic intelligence, that both those powers have trespassed upon our patience to the utmost stretch; and that the best expedient to redress grievances will be to talk with them a little in the Oliverian style, that is, not thro' the mediation of Ambassadors, and other protracting methods, but from the mouths of our Hawkes, Bretts, Tyrrels, Keppels, Howes, &c. worthies who have sufficiently displayed their talents in the negotiating our affairs to the best advantage, and whose vigorous expostulations upon the spot may possibly command more attention than has hitherto been paid to our most able Orators at the Courts of Paris and Madrid.

We are informed a great quantity of cannon, ammunition, &c. will speedily be embarked for New-York, in order to fortify the important passes in North-America, lately ceded by the Indians to his Majesty: Particularly those of the lakes Huron, Erie, Ontario, and Michillimakinac, which are of the greatest consequence in securing the fur trade, and the back settlements of our three most flourishing colonies in that quarter.

October 6. The newly-elected Polish Monarch is the son of Count Poniatowski, who was a Colonel of the Swedish guards of King Stanislaus of Poland, and a nobleman of uncommon merit. His attachment to the person of Charles the XIIth of Sweden was such, that he followed him into Ukrania as a volunteer, without any post in his army. He was a man of invincible courage, and of great calmness and presence of mind in the most imminent dangers. He was the chief instrument in saving and carrying off the Swedish Hero from the battle of Pultowa, when desperately wounded; for which service he was promoted to the rank of a General. He also preserved the life of that Prince a second time, at the battle of Rugen in Pomerania. He afterwards acted as Ambassador from Charles XII. at Constantinople; which duty he discharged with extraordinary address. His son, the present King of Poland, who inherits all the virtues of his illustrious father, is about five feet seven in stature, about 32 years of age, has a majestic aspect, a piercing eye, and possesses great courage, tempered with reason; his natural parts, which are strong and quick, are improved by a very liberal education; he is blessed with the gift of memory in a very extraordinary manner; he speaks several languages in great perfection, and is a lover of the arts and sciences. This monarch visited London in the year 1754, remained in England from the beginning of September to the latter end of December, and when in town lodged at Mr. Croppenhole's, in Suffolk-street, near the Mews. During his stay in this kingdom he made a tour through South-Britain, and examined every thing worthy the attention of an ingenious and curious traveller. He went two or three times to Westminster-Abbey, and copied the most remarkable inscriptions on the antient monuments there; he was also in the Golden Gallery at the top of St. Paul's Church, where he wrote his name. He liked England, and was fond of the persons in genteel life with whom he conversed; but considered the lower class in a very unfavourable light, on account of some mobs which he chanced to be a spectator of, and from thence had too hastily formed his opinion of the behaviour of the whole body of the common people.

The last letters from Constantinople, which are dated the 16th of August, bring advice, that the Grand Signior had declared, that his Ministry should make strict scrutiny into the affairs of Poland; after which the result should be made known to the Cham of Tartary, who is a friend to Count Branitzki, to act with his forces occasionally; but in the mean time he gave positive orders that the said Cham should keep his forces under the strictest discipline till further orders.

We hear from France, that great preparations are making at the several docks for the equipment of a powerful navy.

Oct. 9. We hear two noblemen of distinction will set out this week for Helvoetsluys, in order to attend his Highness the Prince of Mecklenburgh to England.

Oct. 11. Letters from Vienna, of the 22d ult. advise, that by the Ottoman Porte delaying the renewal of the treaty with the Empress-Queen, and the Turks transporting of troops from Asia into Europe, and their sending large quantities of artillery and other warlike stores into Hungary, alarms the Austrian Court and Ministry greatly, which has been the chief motive of such a great number of Austrian troops being sent into Hungary, Croatia, Sclavonia, &c.

Oct. 16. Letters from Warsaw of the 22d of September say, that the foreign Nuncios, who complimented his Polish Majesty on his election to the Crown, were received by that Monarch with peculiar dignity and affability, and he answered each of them with great condescension in their own languege.

Extract of a Letter from Hamburgh, Oct. 5.

"We learn from Petersburgh that the Senate, to whom the Empress had sent all the affidavits and depositions relating to the attempt made by Mirowitz to deliver the late unfortunate Prince Ivan, has concluded its deliberations, and declared Mirowitz guilty of high treason, and worthy of death. Not contented with pronouncing this sentence, they have presented a warm and animated address to her Imperial Majesty, entreating her to have speedy and exemplary justice executed on this offender, and not to let the tenderness of her compassion and humanity go so far, as to mitigate the punishment he deserves, or to consider him as, in any respect, an object of pity. It is said, on the other hand, that powerful intercession is made in the behalf of Mirowitz, and that this intercession is made by those who placed so far their confidence in this officer, as to send him, out of his turn, to mount guard in a garrison where a prisoner of such distinction and consequence was kept. Be that as it may, it is certain that her Imperial Majesty has sent an answer to the Senate, to the following amount: That it is their business to judge according to the evidence that has been exhibited to them; but that it is her prerogative to decide, whether or no that judgment is to be executed with rigour, or to be tempered by mercy. This answer occasions much speculation; and it is yet a matter of doubt, whether the Prerogative will be contented with the blood of the innocent, or proceed to shed that of the guilty.

They write from Vienna, that Count Poniatowski, who is a

Major General in the ſervice of the Empreſs Queen, and elder brother to the King of Poland, is arrived there, charged, as it is ſaid, with an important commiſſion from his Poliſh Majeſty, which may tend to reconcile this Court to the late election. The object of this commiſſion is not known with certainty; it is, however, conjectured, that the Count is come to demand one of the Archdutcheſſes in marriage for his brother.

A private letter from Warſaw mentions, that two couriers ſet out the 22d ult. for Peterſburgh, and the day following a courier was diſpatched for Berlin, in conſequence of ſome very intereſting advices from Sweden.

We hear two 70 gun ſhips, a 50 and a frigate, are the ſhips appointed to ſail for the Eaſt-Indies. To ſave time, they are to take on board a large quantity of heavy artillery on the Company's account.

It is ſaid the Eaſt India Company have reſolved to keep up for the future a conſiderable naval force in India, the better to co-operate with their land troops on any emergency.

Oct. 17. On Wedneſday the 19th of September laſt, an American lady was introduced to his Majeſty at Richmond, and preſented a petition. His Majeſty received the diſtreſſed ſtranger with his wonted charitable goodneſs, and aſſured her of his royal protection. It is imagined her prayer will be granted, ſhe being the only American lady that has had occaſion to apply to his Majeſty.

All the letters from the maritime parts of Spain and France are filled with accounts of the formidable preparations at all their ports.

BOSTON, December 6.

Laſt Week arrived here the Snow-----, Capt. Dunn, from Newfoundland, in whom came ſeveral Gentlemen Paſſengers, as alſo about one Hundred Perſons, who had been employed there in the Fiſhery laſt Seaſon; Upon the Snow's entering the Harbour, Boats from his Majeſty's Sloop Cygnet and Jamaica were manned and armed, and boarded her; the Men imagining they were in danger of being impreſſed, ſtood on their Defence: An Affray immediately enſued, and one of the Paſſengers, named Edward Remmick, received a Thruſt from the Sword of the Lieutenant of the Cygnet, which entered deep into his Body, and whereby his Life is in great Danger: Soon after the Snow got up to Town, Application was made to a Magiſtrate, and a Warrant iſſued for the Perſon who gave the ſuppoſed mortal Wound; but being ſtormy, no Opportunity was had for the Bailiff to go on board till Monday; at which Time he went with ſeveral Attendants to Nantaſket Harbour, where the Cygnet then lay; as ſoon as the Boat came within Call of the Ship, he was ordered to ſtand off; and immediately all on board the Cygnet were armed, as the Bailiff imagined to oppoſe his coming on board; whereupon he returned to Town, without executing the Warrant.

NEW-YORK, December 17.

Letters of the lateſt Date from London ſay, That the Minority loſes Ground; and no Likelihood of any Change in the Miniſtry.

PHILADELPHIA, December 20.

Mr. HALL, Sir,

MR. FRANKLIN having, in the moſt open and candid Manner, put his Name to the REMARKS ON A LATE PROTEST, thereby ſtaking his Character for the Truth of what he aſſerted, it was but juſt to expect that, if any Thing was wrote in Anſwer thereto, it would not have been publiſhed without the Name of the Author. The contrary, however, is the Caſe. An anonymous Performance, CALLED "An Anſwer to Mr. Franklin's Remarks on a late Proteſt," is publiſhed, containing many falſe, malicious, and ſcandalous Invectives againſt that Gentleman's Character. He is now abſent, being gone to England at the Requeſt of the Aſſembly on the public Buſineſs; but as I am fully perſuaded of the Truth of what he aſſerted in the Remarks, "THAT HIS REPUTATION IS DEARER TO HIM THAN LIFE," I think it would be as inconſiſtent with the Eſteem and Friendſhip I have long profeſſed for him, were I to ſee his Character ſo inſidiouſly and infamouſly attacked, without my appearing in his Behalf, as it would be for me to obſerve a Ruffian attempting to ſtab him in the Back, without my offering to avert the Blow. I do therefore hereby call upon the Author or Authors of the ſaid ANSWER, to avow their Performance to the Publick; and I do promiſe that, in ſuch Caſe, there ſhall be a full and circumſtantial Reply made to the ſame, and publiſhed, with the Writer's Name affixed.---But to bring this Matter to a final Iſſue, and to prevent the Publick from being any longer impoſed on by falſe Repreſentations, I do further offer, that if Mr. Allen, or any Gentleman of Character, will publickly acknowledge himſelf the Author of the Anſwer to Mr. FRANKLIN's Remarks, or undertake to ſupport the Facts therein alledged, and will engage to pay FIVE POUNDS to the Provincial Hoſpital for every Falſhood or groſs Miſrepreſentation the ſaid Anſwer ſhall be proved to contain, I will engage to pay the Sum of TEN POUNDS to the ſaid Hoſpital, for every Charge againſt Mr. FRANKLIN's Character, which ſhall be proved by the ſaid ALLEN, or other Perſon. For this Purpoſe he may chooſe one Referee of acknowledged Reputation, and I another, from any of the neighbouring Colonies; and, if they differ, let them chooſe an Umpire. This Propoſal every ſenſible and impartial Perſon cannot but think juſt and reaſonable: And one would expect that the ſaid Author or Authors, can have no Objection thereto; for, if one Half of what they have alledged againſt Mr. FRANKLIN can be proved to be true, he muſt be a Monſter indeed, and it cannot but reflect great Honour on them, that they have been inſtrumental in ſhewing him to the World in his proper Colours.

JOHN HUGHES,
Member of Aſſembly for Philadelphia County.

On Sunday Evening next the Reverend Mr. M'CLENACHAN propoſes to preach a Charity Sermon, for the Relief of the DEBTORS confined in our Goal, many of whom are ſaid to be reduced to great Extremity.

From Wilmington, in North-Carolina, we have Advice, that the Reverend Mr. WHITEFIELD arrived at Newbern on the Seventeenth of laſt Month, and on Sunday preached to a crowded Audience in the Pariſh Church of St. Peters: That on Monday he ſet off for Georgia, and got to Brunſwick the Wedneſday following, but did not preach there; and the next Day continued his Journey, by the Way of Little River, to Charles-Town.

On Wedneſday, the 12th Inſtant, pretty late in the Night, two Men were found lying in the Lancaſter Road, about 13 Miles from Town, in a moſt diſtreſſed Condition, and muſt both have died, it is thought, before Morning, if they had not been taken up, and carried to a Houſe, by ſome Perſons going that Way. One of the Men, after a While, ſo far recovered, as to tell that they were met by two Men on Horſeback, who uſed them moſt barbarouſly, and robbed him of Six Pounds; but what they took from his Companion he could not ſay, as he did not know what he had about him; this Perſon, we hear, is likely to recover, but the other was ſo badly wounded in the Head, and, it is ſaid, his Scull broke, that it was feared he could not live.

And on Monday laſt, in the Duſk of the Evening, the Houſe of Mr. Jonathan Evans, of this City, was robbed of a plain Three Pint Silver Coffee Pot.- ---The ſame Night a Fellow went into the Houſe of Mr. Reynolds, on Society-Hill, and ſnatched up a Silver Tankard, notwithſtanding a Woman was ſitting in the Room; and on her calling out to him to leave the Tankard, he threw ſome Liquor that was in it in her Face, and got clear off with his Booty, tho' ſhe followed him a conſiderable Way, hollowing, Stop Thief.

By a Gentleman from Barbados we have Advice, that the Schooner Freemaſon, Capt. James Reily, from Boſton for the Grenades, foundered at Sea, in Lat. 24. 30. Long. 56. after having been 18 Days conſtantly pumping: That the Captain and People were taken out of the Veſſel by Captain Eddy, from Virginia to Barbados, and carried in there; and that the Schooner ſunk in two Hours after the Crew left her.---About 40 Leagues from our Capes he ſpoke with Captain Hutchings, bound to Jamaica from this Port; alſo with a ſmall Schooner from N. York for Penſacola; all well in both Veſſels. And in the Latitude of Bermuda haled a light Schooner, ſtanding S. E. which he imagined was blown off this Coaſt; but ſhe being to Leeward, could not hear who ſhe was, or where bound.

On Friday laſt Capt. Torbert arrived here from Briſtol, after a tedious and ſtormy Paſſage, in which he loſt his Boom, Foretop-maſt, one of his Sails, and had ſome others ſplit. And the next Day Capt. Fortin came up from the ſame Place, who, on the 30th ult. in Lat. 29: 30, Long. 68 Weſt from London, ſpoke with the Schooner Sally and Polly, Capt. Curry, from New York for Carolina; which Veſſel was drove off the Virginia Coaſt, by a hard Gale of Wind at North North-weſt, in which ſhe ſprung a very bad Leak, that obliged her to bear away for the Weſt-Indies.

Monday laſt arrived the Brig Sarah, Capt. Timmons, from Surrinam. On the 24th of laſt Month, off of Cape Hatteras, in Lat. 35, Long. 71: 12 Weſt, he met with a moſt violent Storm, that laſted four Days, the Heighth of it the 26th, in which he was thrown on his Beam Ends, and continued in that Condition for 48 Hours, every Moment expecting to ſink; he had four Feet and a Half Water in his Hold; loſt his Boltſprit and Boat; had all his Sails ſplit, and his Weather Fore-chain Plates carried away, by which he had like to have loſt his Foremaſt.----The Day after the Storm he ſpoke a new Sloop, from New-Providence for Maryland, Capt. Thompſon, who had loſt his Boltſprit and Fore Sails, and ſplit his Main-ſail, in ſaid Storm.

Capt. Robinſon, from Liverpool, 18 Days ago ſpoke the Snow Penn, Capt. Harkies, from this Port for Briſtol, 115 Leagues from the Capes; all well.

Philadelphia, December 18, 1764.

For the Entertainment of the CURIOUS,
A COURSE of ELECTRICAL EXPERIMENTS, with explanatory LECTURES, is propoſed to be exhibited at the College, in this City, on Thurſday and Friday the 27th and 28th Inſtant, and again on Thurſday and Friday the 3d and 4th of January.
By EBENEZER KINNERSLEY, M. A. Profeſſor of Engliſh and Oratory in the College and Academy of Philadelphia.
This Courſe will be divided into two Lectures; in which, among many other Particulars, it will be ſhewn, that the ELECTRIC FIRE, produced by the Friction of Glaſs, or any other Electric Subſtance, is not the ſame with CULINARY FIRE, but is real LIGHTNING, the very ſame, in all Reſpects, with that which is ſeen and heard in a THUNDER-GUST; and that our Bodies, at all Times, contain enough of it to ſet a Houſe on Fire.
Above fifty curious Experiments will be made on LIGHTNING; the principal Laws by which it always acts will be exhibited and explained; and a practical Method ſhewn, and an Inſtance given, of the happy Succeſs thereof in this City, whereby Houſes, Ships, &c. may be preſerved from being damaged by LIGHTNING.
As NO One need feel the Effect of any of theſe Experiments, but thoſe who chooſe it, and as the Quantity of LIGHTNING made uſe of will be but ſmall, the moſt timorous Perſon need not apprehend being either hurt or terrified. Therefore, as the Knowledge of Nature tends to enlarge the human Mind, and give us more noble, more grand and exalted Ideas of the Author of Nature, it is preſumed that this Courſe of Experiments will meet with Encouragement, as a rational and commendable Entertainment.
Thoſe who deſire to have their Dwellings effectually ſecured from the deſtructive Violence of one of the moſt awful Powers of Nature, may hereby learn more of the Nature and Properties of LIGHTNING than was ever known in the World till lately; and, at the ſame time, be fully convinced, that the Method propoſed for their Security will, if put in Practice, be attended with the deſired Succeſs; and conſequently, that Mankind, inſtead of having any juſt Objection thereto, have great Reaſon to bleſs GOD for ſo uſeful a Diſcovery. For, "A prudent Man foreſeeth the Evil, "and hideth himſelf; but the Simple paſs on, and are puniſhed." Prov. xxii. 3.
The Lecture to begin, each Day, preciſely at Eleven o'Clock. Tickets to be had at the London Coffee-Houſe, or at Mr. KINNERSLEY's Houſe, near the College. Price Half a Dollar for each Lecture. *

WANTED Immediately,
A MAN COOK at the College in this City. Any Perſon willing to undertake the Buſineſs, who can be well recommended for Sobriety and Honeſty, may apply to Mr. KINNERSLEY, at his Houſe adjoining the College.
N. B. A Man and his Wife will find Employment, provided either of them underſtands COOKING, and they have no more Family.
If Joſeph Morris, who worked laſt Summer at Dr. Swift's, in the Manor of Moreland, be now in this City, or not far off, and out of Employment, Mr. Kinnerſley would be glad to ſpeak with him. Tbctf.

GENOA, September 1.

A Sergeant and five ſoldiers, of the garriſon of Baſtia, engaged to deliver up to Paſcal Paoli the Convent of the Capuchins, and another poſt which commands that place; but the plot being diſcovered, they were arreſted, and it is hoped will meet with their deſerts.

Berlin, Sept. 15. Notwithſtanding the turn which affairs have taken in Poland, we are informed, that the troops in Sileſia are to remain there during the whole winter; they will be diſtributed along the Oder in quarters of cantonment, and the ſeveral garriſons are to be augmented. The invalids are to be draughted off, and their places ſupplied by the recruits raiſed ſome months ago, which are now quite perfect in the new exerciſe. His Majeſty has reviewed the State of the ſeveral fortified towns in Sileſia, and had great reaſon to be ſatisfied, as well with the repair in which the defences were kept, as with the condition of the magazines of proviſions, ordnance ſtores, and ſmall armouries. The report is, that a General Officer now in Schweidnitz, has, with the aſſiſtance of a French Engineer, reduced to a certainty the charges of powder which cannon of different weights and calibres require, ſo as to act with the greateſt power poſſible: And the ſame gentlemen have diſcovered the true proportions in which the materials of gunpowder ought to be mixed, to make it act with the greateſt force at a given diſtance.

Copenhagen, Sept. 12. An Ordinance has lately been publiſhed here, whereby his Daniſh Majeſty prohibits his ſubjects to ſettle in Ruſſia or foreign parts; promiſing all due encouragement to arts and manufactures in their own country: And ſuch agents or others, whether foreign or domeſtick, as ſhall be found decoying perſons out of the kingdom, are to experience the utmoſt ſeverity of the law.

Peterſburgh, Sept. 4. We are informed that the Grand Signior has nominated a miniſter to repair hither to compliment her Majeſty on her acceſſion to the throne.

Segovia (in Spain) Sept. 20. On the firſt of next November a packet will depart from Corunna for the Weſt-Indies, to carry letters directed to any of the Spaniſh American dominions; and on the firſt day of every following month others will be diſpatched from Corunna, and are to return thither with the anſwers. Thoſe who are employed in the Catholick King's ſervice, or Merchants furniſhed with proper paſſports, will be permitted to embark in theſe packets, paying for their paſſage according to the regulations of the Havannah and Caraccas companies.

Leipſick, Sept. 26. Prince Xavier has revived the edict againſt perſons who preſume to engage his ſubjects by falſe ſuggeſtions, or other means, to go and ſettle in other countries.

Hanover, Sept. 28. We have juſt received advice, that the Prince, Biſhop of Hildeſheim, is elected Coadjutor to the biſhoprick of Paderborn.

Florence, Sept. 21. The Sieur Pucci, his Imperial Majeſty's Agent at the court of London, having obtained his recal on account of his ill ſtate of health, is to be replaced by the Sieur Lotinger, the Conſul of Tuſcany at Genoa.

Tunis, Sept. 4. The Regency has received the diſagreeable news of three of our galliots being taken by the Malteſe, and the loſs is ſo much the greater, as ſeveral of our beſt ſea-officers were on board.

A Swediſh ſhip arrived here the 11th ult. from Conſtantinople, and brought on board M. Morlinari, Chancellor to the Swediſh Embaſſy at the Porte; and a Baſhaw, commiſſioned by the Divan, to offer the mediation of the Ottoman Court between the King of Sweden and the Bey of this city.

This Turkiſh officer has been very ſucceſsful in his commiſſion, our Bey having this day ſigned a treaty of peace with Sweden, in conſideration of the ſum of 15,000 ſultanis (about 7500 l. ſterling) in gunpowder, cannon, and cables; in conſequence of which ſeven Swedes have been releaſed from their impriſonment, and orders given to the Commanders of our corſairs to pay all due reſpect to the Swediſh flag.

Oct. 16. They write from Conſtantinople, by the way of Venice, that if we may judge either from the frequency of Divans, or the putting ſeveral corps of troops in motion, and embarking vaſt quantities of military ſtores and ammunition on the Black Sea, there is certainly ſome great deſign in agitation. The common opinion directs the view of all theſe preparations to Poland; but the great credit the Pruſſian Miniſter is in, and the effected delays made in renewing the truce with the Court of Vienna, inclines more penetrating people to a very different ſentiment.

A letter from Bruſſels, dated the 3d inſt. mentions, that a young lady of that place, of faſhion and fortune, was addreſſed by an officer, with her father's conſent; and, as it is ſaid, a promiſe of marriage paſſed between them. After this, the officer's affairs made it neceſſary for him to go out of town. In the mean time, whilſt he was abſent, another officer, who knew nothing of his courtſhip, ſaw the lady, took a liking to her, and addreſſed her. After a few viſits he applied to his Colonel, and aſked his permiſſion to marry the lady (for no officer there muſt marry without his Colonel's conſent) he was refuſed, the bad conſequences of the union were repreſented to him, he having no fortune, and he was confined for ſome time; but when he got at his liberty, he could not refrain making another viſit to the young lady. What paſſed is uncertain, however, when he left her, he ſaid he was going to the main guard; but, inſtead of that, he went out of the city gates, and at a ſmall diſtance from the town ſhot himſelf with a piſtol. The young lady having ſome reaſon to ſuſpect his deſign, ſent in ſearch of him, when her ſervant, and one of the neighbouring peaſants, found him dead; and brought his corpſe back with them into the city.

Some letters from Copenhagen account for his Daniſh Majeſty's late naval preparations, as alſo the fortifying ſome important paſſes on the ſea coaſt; advices having been received from Peterſburgh, that her Imperial Majeſty had been heard to declare her indignation at the Ruſſian navy's having ſuffered itſelf to be blocked up hitherto, as in a priſon, within the confines of the Baltic ſea.

We hear that orders are gone to Ireland for ſix different ſhips to be immediately freighted with beef, pork, and butter, for the London market.---This ſurely will reduce the prices of thoſe articles, which are at preſent very exorbitant.

By the Britannia Packet, from the Havannah, there is advice, that the mortality among the Negroes is ceaſed; that the fortifications towards the ſea are finiſhed, and 20,000 workmen are employed in rendering the future approaches of an enemy impracticable: Three new 74 gun ſhips were expected to be launched by the latter end of October.

They write from Yarmouth, that upwards of 20 Dutch doggers, are now employed in the herring fiſhery of that place; and as others are daily arriving, whoſe buſineſs is ſuſpected to ſmuggle as well as fiſh, the cutters are preparing to pay them a viſit, it having been reported that the Hollanders have brought over a cargo of brandy, gin, and tea, the better to enſure their voyage with double ſucceſs.

Laſt Week, a Man of pretty good appearance, went to ſeveral Shops in Town, where he choſe and agreed for Goods to a conſiderable Value, which he deſired to be packed up and got ready for him by the Time when he ſhould call for them, which was to be in a few Hours; but from each Place he took away with him ſome Articles which he pretended an immediate Occaſion for, and was to pay for with the Reſt. By this Contrivance he carried off Goods from ſeveral Places, where he took Care to call no more; but at laſt being diſcovered, or ſuſpected, he was on Monday laſt taken up and carried before a Magiſtrate, who committed him to Goal.

[We hope this frugal Practice, which will be a Saving of many Thouſands to this Country, may univerſally prevail.]

PHILADELPHIA, December 27.

Mr. HALL,

AN extraordinary Challenge has appeared in your laſt Paper, to which is affixed the Name of "John Hughes, Member of Aſſembly for Philadelphia County;" and as ſaid Hughes, for very ſubſtantial Reaſons, is ſuppoſed not to be the Author of this Challenge, but only the Herald or 'Squire of ſome dreadful unknown Giant or Knight, who would tear in Pieces the Author or Authors of the Anſwer to the Remarks, if they ſhould venture to approach him; you will therefore be pleaſed, in Behalf of the ſaid trembling Author or Authors, to acquaint the valiant 'Squire Hughes, that ſome Things are to be explained, and Preliminaries ſettled, before any One can think it proper to accept this wonderful Challenge.

Firſt, then, let it be obſerved, that the World, in general, ſeldom conſiders a Paper to be more or leſs true for want of a Name. The ſubſcribing political Papers has not been a common Practice, either here or in the Mother Country; nor would it be a convenient One. The Cauſe of Liberty would often be left to ſuffer, if her Advocates were obliged to expoſe their Names to the Clamour of Party, or the Reſentment of Power; and beſides this, a Name is often found to lead the Reader's Attention from the Merit of the Cauſe to the Perſon of the Author. Mr. Franklin himſelf thought proper to anſwer the Preface to Mr. Dickinſon's Speech, by a Preface to what was called Mr. Galloway's Speech, and neither of theſe Prefaces had a Name; and indeed almoſt all Mr. Franklin's political Pieces have appeared without a Name; ſuch as his Cool

Thoughts, his Narrative, his Hiſtorical Review, and many others, in which he has taken great Freedom with the Characters of others. Why, then, will this Gentleman's Friends, now in his Abſence, inſiſt upon a Practice ſo different from his own, and even make it the Condition on which alone they will make a Reply? If there be any thing falſe or inconcluſive in the Anſwer to the Remarks, it may be as eaſily detected and expoſed, as if the Author was known. If there is no ſuch Reply made, it ought to be fairly preſumed that Mr. Hughes, or the real Author of the Advertiſement, is incapable of making any.

But, ſay they, we muſt have "Mr. Allen, or a Gentleman of Character," as our Antagoniſt. This is the true Stile of Knights-errant, who would think the whole Honour of Knighthood contaminated, if they ſhould enter the Liſts in ſingle Combat with any thing but a Perſon of their own Rank.

Whoever penned this Advertiſement, muſt have intended to divert the Publick from the Matter in Hand, by the blundering Simplicity of our Welch 'Squire. By calling for a Gentleman of Character to enter the Liſts with him, Mr. Hughes is made to pay himſelf the Compliment of being a Gentleman of Character, and to allow Mr. Allen to be the ſame, tho' the Author of the Remarks had aſſerted the direct contrary. When he calls on Names to ſupport but "one Half of what has been alledged againſt Mr. "Franklin, and gives him up as a Monſter, if but "Half be true;" he forgets that the Anſwer to the Remarks was profeſſedly written in Defence of a late Proteſt, and that the greateſt Part of the Charges in the Anſwer, are taken from that Proteſt, which has already been ſigned not only by Mr. Allen, but nine other Gentlemen of undiſputed Character. Any further ſigning would have been unneceſſary; nay, it would have been Preſumption in the Author or Authors of the Anſwer, to have intruded their little Name or Names into this Diſpute, which was ſigned on both Sides by Principals. All that he or they had to do, was to review the Diſpute; to ſtate the Falſhoods and Evaſions contained in the Remarks; to draw certain Concluſions from certain undeniable Premiſes; and to leave the Publick, unbiaſſed by Names, to judge of the whole.

Mr. Hughes knew he trod on ſafe Ground, by calling on Mr. Allen particularly in this Affair; or rather by being the Mouth of others to call on him. They well knew that Mr. Allen would not chuſe to enter the Liſts with ſuch an Antagoniſt as had yet appeared, and that he neither was, nor could be ſuppoſed, the Author of a Performance, in which ſo much is ſaid to his own Advantage. His Modeſty and Senſe would at leaſt have prevented this; and he is not ſo deſtitute of Friends, as to be under the Neceſſity of advocating his own Cauſe. Whatever, therefore, might have been intended by this Piece of Knight-errantry, the World will be at no Loſs to ſee it in its true Light, viz. as a poor Evaſion of a Reply; and the Anſwer to the Remarks ought to be taken as a full Proof of what is alledged in them, unleſs the contrary can be ſhewn by fair Argument.

As to the Propoſal of aſcertaining the Truth of the Anſwer to the Remarks by laying a Wager, it is a new Method in Writing. It is true, I have ſeen the Courage of Cocks, and the Swiftneſs of Horſes, determined by Betting; and I have heard a noiſy Fellow in a Coffee-Houſe, after every other Argument failed, offer (Reaſon or not Reaſon) to lay Two to One he was right; and if his Purſe happened to be the ſtrongeſt, this Argument might prevail. Mr. Hughes, truſting to this, offers Ten Pounds to Five. As he had good Reaſon to think none of the rich Men would take him up, ſo he knew ſuch a high Bet would frighten a poor Author out of his Wits; but----- if Mr. Hughes, agreeable to the Seaſon, will lay ten good Pies or Cakes to be eat, againſt five, the Author or Authors will then probably appear; for which ever Side gets the better, there will be at leaſt Eating in the Caſe. But they muſt object to Referees from any neighbouring Province; for as five Sixths of the People of this Province, who have ſeen the Anſwer to the Remarks, ſeem already to have decided in its Favour, and to be fully convinced of the Allegations it contains, it would be giving up too much to tranſfer the Matter to a new Judicature to be choſen mutually; for that would be actually ſecuring Mr. Hughes Half a Chance of a favourable Decree, and would beſides be a very great Affront to that reſpectable Tribunal, THE PEOPLE OF PENNSYLVANIA, who ought to be the abſolute and ſole Judges of this Matter.

As Authors had much rather eat,

Mr. Hughes tells us, or is made to tell us, that he could not obſerve a "Ruffian attempt to ſtab his Friend in the "Dark, without endeavouring to avert the Blow." Now it may be curious to obſerve how he endeavours to avert it. A Ruffian (to purſue the Simile given to him) comes behind ſaid Hughes's Friend, with a Maſque or Vizard on, and gives him a ſound Drubbing. Hughes does not offer to ward off a ſingle Blow from his Friend, but calls aloud, that if the Villain would but ſhew his Face, or tell his Name, he would grind him to Powder. Juſt ſo the renowned Don Quixotte, meeting a few Merchants, cried out, "Let the whole World ſtand ſtill, and if the whole World "will not confeſs, affirm and ſwear, that the Empreſs "Dulcinea (who by the Bye was only a common Trol-"lop) is the moſt beautiful Damſel in the World, I "challenge you all to Battle."---But poor Rozinante ſtumbled, and a Mulateer of the Company heartily belaboured the Knight's Ribs. But to return to the Simile, and be as ſerious as the Subject will admit; ſuppoſe the Ruffian refuſes to unmaſk, or tell his Name, and ſays that doing ſo will neither increaſe or diminiſh Mr. Hughes's Strength or his own; and that as his Quarrel with Hughes's Friend was of a public Nature, he would treat him accordingly. Suppoſe Mr. Hughes ſtill, inſtead of averting a Blow, offers to lay Ten Pounds to Five with the Ruffian that his Friend had not injured the Public, and, to decide the Matter, finally adds, that if you, Mr. Ruffian, will chuſe one Arbitrator from Maryland, I will chuſe one from Jerſey, and if they cannot agree, they ſhall chuſe an Umpire from New-York. Suppoſe Mr. Hughes ſhould act this extravagant Part, while his Friend all this Time lay weltering under the Blows of the Aſſailant, what muſt the World think, but that Mr. Hughes was either diſordered in his Mind, or afraid to attack the Perſon who had thus injured his Friend?

Upon the whole, as the Author of the Advertiſement ſays Mr. Franklin has ſtaked his Character for the Truth of what he has aſſerted in the Remarks, and that he is a Monſter if one Half of the Charges in the Anſwer be true; if any Perſon of Character, who is known to be capable of writing an Advertiſement, will, to ſave Trouble, mention what Part of the Anſwer ſtands in Need of further Proof, they will find the Satisfaction they deſire from ſome One of the large Number of People in this Province, who know the ſeveral Matters mentioned in the Anſwer, to be undoubted Facts. If they do not chuſe to proceed in this Way, JOHN HUGHES may affix his Name to as many Advertiſements as he pleaſes, without being thought worthy of further Notice.

On Sunday Evening laſt an excellent Charity Sermon was preached in St. Paul's Church, by the Reverend Mr. M'CLENACHAN, for the Benefit of the poor diſtreſſed Debtors in our Goal; the Text made uſe of on the Occaſion, was taken from Matthew xxv. 35, 36. after which Forty Pounds, Nine Shillings, and Seven-pence, were collected towards the Relief of theſe ſuffering People.------ But, as we are informed that the Objects of this Charity are many, and their Situation really moſt deplorable, this ſmall Sum will go but a little Way in ſupporting them through the Rigours of the Seaſon; it is therefore humbly hoped, that Efforts of the ſame, or any other, Kind, that may be thought of, will meet with a hearty Concurrence from the Well-diſpoſed of all Denominations.

Captain Rogers, from Sligoe, on the 15th of laſt Month, in Lat. 37: 42, Long. 60: 53, ſpoke a Snow, Captain Hamilton, from the ſame Place, bound to Baltimore, in Maryland, all well.----:-The 17th, in Lat. 35: 33, ſcudding in a hard Gale of Wind, ſhipped a Sea, which waſhed overboard three of his Hands, one of whom was recovered, but the other two drowned.------And on the 20th, in Lat. 34: 18, Long. 62: 30, Weſt from London, ſpoke a Bermudian built Sloop, Captain Edward Martin, bound to this Port from Rotterdam (laſt from Portſmouth) with 120 Palatines on board; out ſeven Weeks, and all well.

Our Navigation was at a Stand for a few Days, the River being full of Ice; but on Tueſday Night we had a violent North-eaſt Snow Storm for ſome Hours, which ended in Rain, and the Wind blowing prodigious hard at the ſame time, deſtroyed the Ice ſo much, that Yeſterday ſome Veſſels ventured down.
